Professional Development

Hannah Byrd Little was selected to attend the School Library Journal Leadership Summit October 6-8, 2017. This is a limited, invitation-only event for school library leaders. The 13th annual SLJ Leadership Summit: Confronting Our Literacy Crisis will bring together a dynamic group of school librarians, education leaders, and tech innovators, as well as authors, publishers, and vendor stakeholders to discuss how to take on a greater leadership role in overcoming the current literacy crisis—from teaching about and defending quality information over Fake News to fostering digital literacy and learning in these ever changing technological times. [there is no charge for those selected to attend]
